

IMD ART COLLECTION GROWS

Local Swiss artist John Allemann is the imaginative force behind three new paintings hanging in the Executive Learning Center next to the Moller auditorium. Known for his "urban reflections," a series including subjects in Barcelona, Venice, Paris, Geneva and Montreux, Allemann explores the way in which light and images reflect on glassy surfaces. He brought this creative vision to the IMD campus and captured three iconic IMD scenes: the Executive Learning Center and two angles on the Bignami Lightwell.

In a small ceremony in January, the IMD community gathered as Dominique Turpin unveiled the works. The artist was present and discussed his vision and the way in which the paintings touch on themes of concentration, the process of opening up to the world, and our individual journeys. Be sure to stop by the Executive Learning Center to enjoy these beautiful renditions of our campus and the IMD experience!
